Legion Makes Plans to Build Clubhouse Here

Invests $1,500 Building Fund in Bonds for Future Use

The building of an Antioch American Legion home, as soon as possible after the war, and the purchase of $1,000 worth of war bonds were voted at an eventful session of the local post Monday evening.

The mailing list of men and women in the service from Antioch and Lake Villa who are sent the Antioch News reached a total of 410 as of the Sept. 30 issue, it was reported.

From time to time in past years, Antioch Legionnaires have discussed a program for owning a home of their own, but due to depression conditions and other factors, action had been postponed.

Now, however, all members are determined to carry through construction of a new Legion home for Antioch, in anticipation of a greatly increased Legion enrollment as men return from service with the armed forces.

Village Board Gives $100

Encouragement in making this step was received when the village board donated $100 to be used in the building program. Added to this was $900, part of the receipts from the annual carnival this summer.

This sum, the Legion decided, is to be invested in war bonds for the present, since it is believed that it will be at least two years before actual building can be started. The intervening period is to be devoted to carrying on the campaign for additional funds.

The Legion had already invested $500 in war bonds, giving a total of more than $1,500 worth (maturity value) now owned by the organization.

A building committee was elected, consisting of Roman B. Vos, chairman; John L. Horan, secretary; Dr. G. W. Jensen, treasurer; Floyd W. Horton, commander; Clarence L. Heath, Walter K. Hills, James L. Waters and Clarence J. White, past commanders of Antioch post, and Vincent Nedbal, a past commander of Norwood post, Cook county.

Inquiries as to by-laws and legal information of interest in connection with the building program are being sent to the North Chicago, Waukegan, Kenosha and Woodstock Legion posts, which have built homes recently. Incorporation papers are being prepared at the office of the secretary of state and formation of a permanent organization (so arranged that members from the Legion will be elected each year to replace those who have served their terms of office) will be voted upon.

The Legion auxiliary is also giving its services to promotion of the building program, and has elected a committee consisting of Mrs. John Horan, chairman, Mrs. Walter Hills, Mrs. Otto Klass, Mrs. A. H. Kaufman and Mrs. Clarence Heath.

The building program is not expected to conflict in any way with the Legion's extensive program in behalf of the service men.

This includes the mailing of gifts and remembrances at Christmas time, the sending of the Antioch News to Antioch and Lake Villa men and women now in the service and a number of other activities in behalf of the members of the armed forces.

Others Co-operate

The program for the service men has been carried on for the past two years. Citizens of both Antioch and Lake Villa have co-operated splendidly, the Legion states, through their contributions placed in coin cartons in many business establishments.

The custom of mailing the Antioch News to the service men was begun by H. B. Gaston, publisher of the paper, and was carried on by him at his own expense until the rapidly increasing number of those entering the service made this too heavy a burden. The Legion then voted to sponsor continuance of the custom, and to underwrite a large proportion of the expenses.

A large percentage of the men receiving the paper are now on foreign service, and special wrappers are used for this mailing.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wilton and Mrs. Fern Lux entertained relatives from Chicago at the Wilton home on Victoria street Sunday. Those present included their uncle, C. E. Dunham, Mr. and Mrs. John Krug and children, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ferguson and son, Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. O'Toole and Art Kruger.

Legion to Hold Benefit Dance October 16

A dance for the benefit of the Antioch Legion post's newly-created building fund will be held Saturday evening, Oct. 16, in the Antioch Township High school gymnasium.

Members of the committee include Floyd Horton, commander, as chairman; Elmer Langosch, adjutant; Otto S. Klass and Clarence Heath.

Old time and modern dancing will be enjoyed from 8:30 p. m. to 1 a. m., with music by the Wilton Players.

Tickets may be obtained from Legionnaires.

"Kay" Anderson, Infantile Paralysis Victim, Improves

The Sister Kenny treatment for infantile paralysis is believed to be bringing some relief to five-year-old "Kay" Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burl Anderson, who has been at St. Therese hospital for the past two weeks.

While she is still suffering paralysis of one arm and shoulder, her condition has improved since her illness was first noticed.

Kay's sister, Penny Elizabeth, aged nine months, who was at the hospital for several days with a skull fracture received in a fall, was brought home last Wednesday evening.

Joyce Schmidtke of Spring Grove, 16, who has been in on iron lung at St. Therese hospital for 51 days, was able to leave it last week, and is said to be considerably improved.

Sammy Klass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto S. Klass, was under hospital observation in Waukegan for several days, when illness and fever led doctors to believe that he might possibly be suffering from the disease. His tests did not indicate the presence of the virus, however, and he returned home Friday.

Fire Prevention Week Will Be Observed Here

Oct. 3-9 Set for Observance by Proclamation of Gov. Green

In keeping with a proclamation issued by Gov. Dwight H. Green, Antioch, Lake Villa and other communities of the lakes region will observe the period of Oct. 3-9 as Fire Prevention Week.

Following annual custom, Antioch firemen will inspect schools and business establishments, and will note especially at this time the presence of any fire hazards, Chief L. H. Van Patten states.

Plans for Antioch's observance of the week were made at a meeting of the fire department Tuesday evening. After the meeting the firemen were guests of Russell Keulman and Rudolph Stimpfl at a supper at Loon Lake.

On Monday evening, members of the Antioch department attended a meeting of the Lake County Firemen's association held in Highland, with the Highland and Highland Park departments as hosts. Capt. M. H. Hall, Fort Sheridan, was the speaker. Arthur Meyer, Libertyville fire chief and a member of the department there for 24 years, was presented a gold chief's badge as a past president of the county association. Round Lake and Grayslake will be hosts at the next meeting, to be held at Round Lake.

Attending the county meeting from Antioch were Chief Van Patten, Herman Rosing, C. L. Shultis, Laurel Van Patten and Deputy State Fire Marshal James Stearns.

County Dairymen Lead In Program For Bangs Control

Have Had More than 500 Cattle Tested; Supervisors Back Work

More than 500 head of cattle have been tested for Bang's disease in Lake county, which is pioneering in Bang's disease and Calthood Vaccination program in Illinois, according to a report received from the committee which has been studying this project in Lake county.

Members of the committee include E. E. Elsbury, representing the Northern Illinois Holstein Breeding association; George Meyer, Lake county board of supervisors; James Davis, representing vocational agriculture instructors in the county; C. W. Wray, Lake County Holstein club; Alfred Ames, Lake County D. H. I. A.; Henry Wegener, Pure Milk association; A. H. Kohlbusch, A.A.A.; Ronald Paddock, Lake County Farm bureau. Charles Kerry, representing the Lake-Cook Farm Supply company, is chairman.

Tests showed that some of the herds of the county had escaped infection, while in others a moderate degree of infection was noted, and owners were able to take precautionary measures.

Funds for the program were advanced by the Lake county board of supervisors. Tests have been conducted by Thomas P. Gallahue, county veterinarian, and Drs. Davidson and Alford of the Illinois state department of agriculture. Calves between four and eight months of age were given vaccinations. In many cases tests were conducted in conjunction with T. B. tests, although herds not currently due for T. B. tests may have the Bang's program tests made.

Blanks available for this purpose may be secured by calling at the Lake County veterinarian's office or the Farm Bureau office, or by writing in for them.

No charge is made for testing the herd and vaccination of calves. It is announced. All herds will be tested and calves vaccinated as quickly as possible.

The disease, which is said to cost the farmers of Lake county, with its important dairying industry, thousands of dollars annually, is reported to be not only the cause of abortions and loss of milk production, but a contributory cause to cases of undulant fever in human beings.

Mr. and Mrs. John Blackman, Wilmet, are moving this week to their new home at Zion, the Harry Kelley home on Sheridan road.

News of the Boys in Service

He entered the air force in August, and has been stationed at the Amarillo field for a month.

Ellis completed a five months' course in aircraft maintenance and repair. He was employed by the B. & O. railroad in Chicago prior to entering the army Oct. 26, 1942. His wife, Mary, resides in Antioch.

Pfc. Raymond J. Horan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Horan, Antioch, was graduated Sept. 29 from the B-24 Liberator bomber mechanics school at Keesler Field, Biloxi, Miss.

S. marine corps; Wray, Jr., who has just been inducted into the navy (Sept. 18), and Ens. John Sheen of the navy air corps, who has been spending a 15-day leave at Des Plaines, where his wife's parents reside. Ens. Sheen is to be on dive bomber duty, she states. S/Sgt. Frank Sciarcio, who has been stationed at the Ordnance Motor Maintenance Depot at Pomona, Calif., but is being transferred to a station in the south, has been home at Lake Villa on furlough.

Hospital Attendants Needed

The State of Illinois is offering employment as hospital attendants to married couples at a combined salary of $2500 a year. There are also openings in the same line of work for individual men and women at a starting salary of $1200 a year. A grade school education is required. Simple Civil Service tests will be given persons applying not later than Oct. 2.

Applications will also be received up to Oct. 2 for the position of grain sampler 1, for which a grade school education and some experience with grain are required.

Release Game Fish In Lakes

The greatest re-stocking program ever undertaken in the Chain of Lakes region is being started by Illinois state conservation crews this fall. It will include the placing of half a million breeding fish in the Chain of Lakes, and the distributing of 15 million yearlings and fingerlings to the various inland lakes of northern Illinois.

Livingstone E. Osborne, director of the Illinois department of conservation, has ordered that the department double its efforts this fall in re-stocking the northern lakes.

The state's desire to guarantee plenty of fish for the anglers' wartime tables, plus the fact that the fishing season which has just closed was the best and heaviest in years, has prompted this extensive program, Osborne says.

State game wardens of District No. 1, under Assistant Tony Maggio, Chicago, began the work with the release of thousands of breeders, including crappies, blue gills and bass, in Fox lake.

Hatched at Spring Grove
Tom McCafferty, superintendent of the Illinois State Fish hatchery at Spring Grove, has ready approximately 15 million yearlings and fingerlings which will be transported by the wardens to the various lakes where they will be released.

The breeders which are being released were also hatched at Spring Grove.

Ample Fresh Fruits, Vegetables Will Aid Winter Food Backlog

Late crops of fresh fruits and vegetables will do much toward relieving any scarcity of other food items during the coming winter.

This is the view expressed by Harvey A. Baum, general manager of A & P's produce-buying operations, based on latest reports from the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and from the company's field men in all parts of the country.

"The outlook is encouraging," Baum said. "The orange crop gives promise of being ahead of last year's heavy production. The nation's grape supply will be a record one, with plenty remaining for domestic needs after a larger proportion of the crop is processed for war needs. The yield of other fruits is below that of a year ago, but of most of these there will be a fair supply."

The vegetable situation is good, particularly with regard to basic vegetables which are most essential from a nutritional standpoint. The potato crop indicates a record increase of 90,000,000 bushels over last year.

"The outlook for other major vegetables is promising. Acreage and growing conditions point to large yields of sweet potatoes, cabbage, lettuce and late carrots. Some smaller truck crops and less essential vegetables will show decreases from last year's large production, but on the whole will approach normal yields of the past ten years."

"Peanuts, an important substitute for meats in providing protein, are expected to surpass last year's $2,500,000,000-lb. production by 260,000,000 lbs. The pecan crop is estimated 25 per cent larger than that of last season."

BOND SALES ARE CLOSE TO GOAL; DEADLINE NEARS

Antioch Twp. Purchases Are $8,453 Short of $89,600 Wanted

Antioch township's war bond and war saving stamp purchases in the third war bond campaign totaled $80,140.25—just a little over $8,000 short of the $88,600 goal set—Township Bond Chairman Otto S. Klass and Campaign Manager Edward C. Jacobs reported this noon.

Purchases and pledges should be turned in by Saturday, they announce, expressing the hope that last-minute purchases may still bring in a sufficient amount to meet Antioch's quota.

Persons making purchases of war bonds during the closing week of the third war bond campaign, which ends Saturday, will be admitted free of charge to the all-star show to be presented in the Waukegan Township High school gymnasium Sunday evening, Oct. 3, at 7 o'clock, it was announced today by Otto S. Klass, Antioch township chairman. Jack Benny, John Carter, Eddy Peabody and Billy de Wolf will be present in person.

Admission will be according to bond purchases—that is, the desirable seats will be rated in proportion to the amount of bonds bought. Tickets may be secured from George Wagner at the Antioch Mill, from Otto S. Klass, and E. C. Jacobs.

Lake Villa "Over the Top"
While final tallies have not as yet been received on the progress of the bond drive at Lake Villa, the co-chairmen for the township campaign, E. K. Hart and William M. Weber, report that the drive is going "over the top" there.

The dollar volume of "E" bond sales will not apparently approach the quota for "E" bonds assigned to the township, they advise, but the total sale of all types of bonds will exceed the $41,000 set as the total quota.

"The number of individual sales made indicates that the committee members have done an excellent job in the house-to-house canvass of the township," the co-chairmen comment. "All committee members are urged to turn in all sales to the bank before Saturday of this week so that the drive may be concluded on time. Anyone who has not purchased their bonds for which they have given the committee orders should do so before the close of business on Saturday, October 2, in order that the township may get credit in this drive."

"The thanks of the community should go to the committee workers whose efforts in the house-to-house canvass made possible the fine results obtained. They have done a real job."

Dairy Transportation Committee Is Named

Henry J. Rentner, Antioch, is among the members of a dairy industry transportation committee appointed by Frank T. Corcoran, district manager of the office of defense transportation.

Rentner and Herman Behm, Grayslake, represent the interests of haulers; A. R. Ketel and James Brandt represent processors, and Charles Kerry, Grayslake, and Clarence Snitsinger, Barrington, represent producers.

The function of the committee will be to study the dairy farm transportation situation in the county and make any adjustments necessary to conserve truck mileage and equipment, Corcoran announces.

Corcoran states that any one affected by the program has the opportunity to file objections to the representation of their interest on this committee. These objections should be made in writing within 10 days of this notification, he advises, and should be addressed to the Office of Defense Transportation, 209 South Wells street, Chicago, together with the names of substitute committee men of their choice and the method of selection.

Mrs. Eva Burnette has succeeded Mrs. John (Margaret) Murray at the Antioch High school cafeteria. Mrs. Murray, who retired last spring after being at the school for the past 14 years, is now visiting in Canada. Mrs. Ann Heath is in charge of the preparation of pastries and Mrs. Emma Mennel of salads. About 110 students are served hot lunches at the school daily. The serving is done in two "shifts," one at 11:20 and the other at 12:20.

A Vital Right

Natural resources are a basic cause of war. Nations which don't have them strive to gain them; nations which have them try to keep them; war itself cannot be waged to a successful termination without their products. From this, the conclusion could easily be drawn that natural resources are a curse. They most decidedly are when they are exploited by a few crazed maniacs with hypnotic power over millions of people.

But the use to which our natural resources here in America have been put during the last century and a half, show that our oil, coal and metal mines, timber, water, power, etc., can be the greatest of blessings. Never has the world seen such comfort and security for the common man as has been attained by their use in this country. All of the creative genius of free men centered on securing a rising plane of existence for the individual. A form of government and a "way of doing business" made it possible to satisfy this urge. The opportunity for every man to make his living independently and free of government domination, is our basic law. This protects our system of free enterprise. As long as it is preserved officialism cannot control votes to destroy it.

Our industries were developed to their present gigantic productivity by countless men—unknown men—free men. Until war came, every ounce of the collective energy of these men went toward making a better life for the common citizen. This is as it should have been, and will be again, providing our people, while making every sacrifice necessary to win the war, cling to one vital right from which stem all other rights—the right of every American citizen in peace time to be the master of his own destiny, not the servant of a socialized state as in Germany.

Realistic Postwar Program

Americans must not sit back and wait for the end of the war to come and then flounder around for solutions to the problems they will have to face, or worse still, be forced into accepting tailor-made solutions of theorists.

Fortunately, Americans aren't. From Albert Leo, the Minnesota farm community of 12,000, there comes a concrete program for the "full employment" peacetime economy. In what is probably one of the first community postwar planning studies in the United States, a survey probed into every facet of the town's economic potential to discover the jobs that will have to be found if there is to be a job for every man who wants one when the uniforms come off.

Through interviews with all local employers, data were obtained on the probable number of jobs that will exist after the war. Studies also were made on markets, farm income, business conditions, and projected public works in the community. Potential postwar customers in the city and nearby farming community were queried to learn what they wanted to buy in the first two post-war years.

Here is a community of citizens, genuinely concerned with the postwar picture, who do not lean back dolefully and wait for utter confusion, or indulge in the wishful thinking that envisages the brave new world of wonderful inventions to begin the moment hostilities cease.

Of course we cannot plan against all the eventualities that will occur after the war. But we can take stock now. And each community in the country should be "taking notes" of this kind to refer to when the crucial time comes.

It's Time to Start Looking Over

Government Expenditures

The Capitol expects bills this fall to require all government agencies to file financial reports of expenditures with Congress and to have their financial operations audited by the General Accounting Office. Decision to press for such legislation stems from the investigations of the Joint Committee on Non-Essential Government Expenditures which found that a total of 51 government agencies have authorizations of funds for disbursements totalling $32,948,000,000. It was pointed out that these disbursements do not come before Congress for rejection or approval or even for scrutiny.—from James Preston's "Washington Snapshots."

—And then we wonder why our taxes keep mounting! Isn't it about time we taxpayers, who are, after all, the real employers of all government employees, started getting pretty much interested in where our money is going? "Government money" isn't given "for free." In the final analysis WE—and that means you and me, brother! have to pay it.

Married—At the home of the bride's parents in Madison, Wis., Mr. Robert Selter of Grass Lake and Miss Ella Anzinger. Wednesday night the cornet band gave them a grand surprise. They were at the house with torches lit and all ready to play before being seen. After playing a few selections they were invited into the house where a fine repast was spread, and treated splendidly.

"I have seen the supplies come in by the hundred shiploads, locomotives and tanks and trucks—acres of boxed food and great mounds of hams, shiploads of bombs stacked in from keel to hatch and all materials that we need at home—steel for bridges and buildings, food for our own people, material enough to make all America well fed and well housed and well clothed.

"I have seen the men climb into the Fortress in the early morning and fly away waving with elaborate nonchalance and I have seen the gap in the mess when they did not come back and the empty bunks, the blankets thrown aside as they threw them, and the framed photographs on the steel lockers.

"I have seen the hospitals with the mangled men, the legless and blind, the fingerless hands and the burned faces—all the destruction that steel and fire can do to a man's body and mind. "Clothing Clinics" patterned after the re-modeling "bees" held last year, are being arranged. Out-moded garments will be rescued from closet and trunk for re-fitting and renovating, as Home Bureau members put conservation theories into practice.

"Our World Neighbors" will be an October discussion topic at the meetings, which will open with the Grayslake unit gathering Oct. 12 in the home of Mrs. Oswald, at Ivanhoe. Hickory unit will meet in the home of Mrs. E. W. King, Wadsworth, Oct. 15; Avon unit in the home of Mrs. Bert Doolittle, Oct. 19; Lake Region unit in the home of Mrs. M. C. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, September 25.

The Golden Text was, "Since the beginning of the world men have not heard, nor perceived by the ear, neither hath the eye seen, O God, beside thee, what he hath prepared for him that waiteth for him" (Isaiah 64: 4).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For the word of the Lord is right; and all his works are done in truth. . . . The Lord bringeth the counsel of the heathen to nought; he maketh the devices of the people of none effect. The counsel of the Lord standeth forever, the thoughts of his heart to all generations" (Psalms 33: 4, 10, 11).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Eternal things (verities) are God's thoughts as they exist in the spiritual realm of the real. Temporal things are the thoughts of mortals and are the unreal, being the opposite of the real or the spiritual and eternal. . . . Reality is spiritual, harmonious, immutable, immortal, divine, eternal" (pp. 337, 338).

VACATIONING

The Rev. and Mrs. Warren C. Henslee of Antioch Methodist Church are vacationing at their summer cottage in Wisconsin during the first two weeks of October. The worship service at eleven o'clock on Sunday, Oct. 3, will be in charge of Charles Caster, and on Oct. 10, W. C. Petty will be in charge. Both these men are lay members of the local church and well qualified for the responsibility they have assumed. They should have the support of all who have the interest of the community at heart.

Deferred Selective Service registrants were today warned by Colonel Paul G. Armstrong, State Director, that they must keep their local boards informed of changes of status or risk being classified in Class I-A because of the lack of up-to-date information in the local board offices.

"In spite of repeated warnings, many deferred registrants have failed to notify their local boards of the birth of a child, a change in employment or some other change in status which might affect their classification."

"Recently we have had a few registrants ordered for induction who have children born prior to September 15, 1942 but who have never reported such births to their local boards. Consequently, the local boards are very properly carrying these registrants as men without children. Frantic complaints about being inducted out of order could have been avoided if these registrants had kept their local boards informed as required by law. Therefore, I urge every registrant who has a child of his own born prior to September 15, 1942, or who adopted or fostered a child prior to December 8, 1941, to report such fact to his local board immediately if he has not already done so."

"In addition, the registrant who has changed his employment must immediately report such fact to the local board. The list of nondeferable occupations has been increased and a registrant's official records in a local-board office might show him to be engaged in one of those nondeferable occupations while he may actually be working today in an essential activity but has never reported that fact to his board. Any registrant who has changed his job without notifying his local board should write his board at once and give full details regarding his new job. Also, if he is in a critical occupation and cannot be replaced, he should have his employer file the Form 42-A (Request for Occupational Deferment) immediately.

Employers should not wait to file a Form 42-A until after an employee is classified in I-A, but rather should file such a form immediately on any skilled or irreplaceable man in his business.

"Another warning I must issue at present is that the Federal authorities are becoming very strict on the matter of a registrant notifying his local board of a change of address. When a registrant moves and fails to tell his local board what his new address is, he violates the Selective Service law and subjects himself to a possible imprisonment of five years in the Federal penitentiary. Since ignorance of the law is no excuse, any registrant who is delinquent in his legal duty can expect no consideration because of his unfamiliarity with the law or his carelessness or neglect."

"The Selective Service System has no desire to build up convictions for violations of the Federal law. We simply ask that registrants do the thing which the law requires of them and thus prevent unnecessary work, embarrassment and possible disgrace."

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

Lesson for October 3

Lesson Text—Matthew 5:17-20; 10:16-23; John 8:12, 40.

JESUS AND THE TEN COMMANDMENTS

With this lesson we begin a series of studies which should be of unusual value, a consideration of the Ten Commandments in the light of the teachings of Jesus, and other related New Testament passages.

It is appropriate to point out that, far from being outmoded, the Ten Commandments are really the basis of all moral law. They need a diligent study and re-emphasis in our day of disregard of moral standards.

As interpreted by the Lord Jesus and applied to our daily living, the Ten Commandments should be brought home to every boy and girl, man and woman in our Bible schools.

We learn here that our Lord did not come to set aside or destroy the law, but to fulfill it in the most complete way. But the gospel takes us a step beyond the law, and it is a great step, for we follow the One who is greater than the law.

I. Built on the Law (Matt. 5:17-20).

The law of God is eternal, never to be abrogated, never set aside. Christ Himself, although we might properly say that He was in reality the Lawgiver and thus had power and authority over the law, indicated His purpose in coming to be that of giving the law its full meaning, not of destroying it. One could wish that those who profess to be His servants might have the same measure of regard for God's law. If they did, they obviously would not be so ready to ignore it, so quick to change it or explain it away, and for more ready to accept with their Master every "jot and tittle," that is, even the minutest detail of His Word.

Recognizing Christ as the fulfillment of the law should prepare one to manifest obedience to every moral precept through His grace.

II. More Than the Law (Matt. 19:16-22).

Obedience to the commandments brings a man up to the very entrance upon life, but to enter in, he must have more than the "things" of the law; he must have the Person who is "the Door" to eternal life.

The young man who came to Christ was rich. His mind was obsessed with things. He had made it his business to observe the law, and had done well (v. 20), but his soul was not satisfied. He thought one more "thing" to do would accomplish his purpose.

The general attitude of the man was commendable. He sensed his lack of the vital something which would remake his life. He came to the right one—the Lord Jesus—with his question.

His failure to go beyond the things of the law to a faith in Christ, however, showed that he loved his possessions more than he desired to follow the Lord.

Those in our day who are trying to please God and gain eternal blessedness by works, by doing things and keeping commandments, need to recognize that in Christianity we have the One who is more than the law. They need to look away from things to be done, to the great thing that was done once and for all on Calvary.

III. Greater Than the Law (John 8:12, 40).

The Scriptures are great because they bear witness to the Christ who can give life. But obviously the One to whom they bear witness is greater than they are.

Paul speaks of the law as a "schoolmaster to bring us to Christ" (Gal. 3:24). The picture is literally of a servant charged with bringing the child to school where he may learn the truth. So the law convicts man of sin, makes him conscious of his own utter inability to meet God's requirements, and makes him ready to turn to Christ in faith and repentance (Rom. 3:20).

These men of our Lord's time were very religious. They spent much of their time searching the Scriptures that they might find eternal life. But most of them failed to understand that the life they sought was in the One who stood before them as Nazareth—and not in the letter of the law.

Jesus has a vital bearing on the present study of the lessons of this quarter. The time has passed when men might seek life in the Scriptures apart from Jesus. Now that Jesus has come, life can be found only if the Scriptures lead one to Jesus.

In our study of the Scriptures does not bring us to Christ, then it is vain indeed. For that reason we turn constantly to One greater than the Commandments (Commentary).

The Observer

Of course, we really know it isn't quite divided up that way, but from where we stand it almost looks as though (by the headlines, at least) the army is doing the fighting in the Atlantic field of operations and the navy in the Pacific.

Our intelligence officers have given us to understand that a very warm game of croquet, indeed, was enjoyed at Dick Moran's Fairway Grill Tuesday, by a group of players who included James Webb, Joseph Panowski, Art Lippert, commander of the Waukegan Legion, and Ken Ashe. We understand that originally croquet was designed as a gentle and genteel game suitable for the fairer, frailer sex. But you should see the kind a croquet them guys play up to Moran's. It's really vicious.

Well, all we gotta say is, we meant well. Anyway, when a guy stopped his car abruptly on the street the other aft in front of our office, with brakes screeching, etc., we thought he looked like he hadda heart attack, or somepin, and went flying out to see if we could help. . . . but 'twan't that what ailed him. . . . so we ain't hadda chance yet to use that first aid course we took a couple years ago. And we went on our way, thinking, "Missed again, by golly!" to join a gang of window-onlookers and watch with interest till he got his vehicle under way again. Now we wonder what we'd do if we happened on what we thought was another ailment victim.

Faint dead away, no doubt.

A giant castor bean plant at the Lake street filling station has been attracting a great deal of comment these days, and speculative remarks, such as, "I wonder how many feet tall it REALLY is?" and "You mean that's the kind of plant they get castor oil from?" Attendant Mushlits also has a surprise crop of mushrooms—or toadstools, if you are inclined to be cynical—that sprang up overnight, as it were, in a barren patch of gravel next to the kerosene pump.

—Don't mind us if these musings have a faintly agricultural note to them. It's a little too early in the year yet for our annual apples about the autumn-blooming apples trees and violets but we do what we can.

Reports from key states indicate that hordes of New Deal federal officeholders have been sent in to bolster the anticipated tumble in President Roosevelt's vote in the next national election.

New Jersey reports, according to the New Jersey Taxpayers Association, that the number of Federal pay-rollers has increased to 65,000, compared to only 13,500 state workers. Ohio, which has 25,000 state employees, is saddled with over 90,000 Government workers; Pennsylvania with 215,000. Other key sections report large increases. And still they come.

Established agencies are adding to their staffs almost daily; new agencies are being created, apart from the war, spreading their potential tentacles across the nation. Local self-government is being undermined.

Almost the words of the Founding Fathers, who wrote the Declaration of Independence are as apt today as they were when written: "He has erected a multitude of new offices, and sent hither swarms of officers to harass our people and eat out their substance."

In fairness, the question naturally arises, will the New Deal dare to use these millions of Government employees for Fourth Term purposes. And the answer to that is found in the report of the special election investigating committee of the Senate in 1938. The three Democratic senators and one Republican made the following report:

"The committee believes that funds appropriated by the Congress for the relief of those in need and distress have been in many instances diverted from these high purposes to political ends."

We wonder . . .

Fishermen whose nets were confiscated by Michigan and Wisconsin state conservation departments would never recognize their fishnets now.

The nets have found a new use in the Army, which obtained them from the two conservation departments without cost, according to Lt. Col. W. A. McDonald, salvage and reclamation officer of the Sixth Service Command, with headquarters in Chicago. Ten thousand feet of net from each department has been divided between Camp Ellis, Illinois; Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Camp McCoy, Wisconsin; and Fort Custer, Michigan, where it is being used by troops practicing camouflage.

Install New Locker System at School

(By Billie May Runyard)

A new locker system has been adopted in the high school this year. Formerly students selected their own lockers and kept them as they pleased—usually leaving them unlocked.

Students are now assigned lockers, first by class divisions, and then alphabetically. Consequently, Seniors are in one section, Juniors in another and so on. The opening day of school they were given slips of paper telling the location of their locker to be, the locker number, the combination of the lock on the locker, and the lock serial number.

Lockers are to be kept locked at all times. Thus the unpleasantness with regard to missing articles may be avoided.

Lockers are regularly inspected. If a locker is found unlocked, a bright red lock is placed on it and the student must go to the office and pay a fee before the lock is removed.

"Magic" Show Is Given at School

"All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," the saying goes. To prevent anything like that from happening at A. T. H. S., a "magic show" was put on last Thursday afternoon for the student body, the teachers, and a number of grade school students.

The performers were Ben Bergen and Miss May, assisted by the wooden dummy "Jerry."

Bergen and Miss May did an amusing trick with money which was followed by one with eggs and a bag. Raymond Atwood was called out of the audience to take part. He watched the procedure carefully, but was unable to tell how it was done when it was completed.

The next high spot on the show was Bergen and the ventriloquist act. Following this Darlene Bauer and Joan Crawford, freshmen, were called upon to assist with a card trick.

The highlight of the whole program came in the second portion of the program with the guillotine act.

Jimmy McKenny, Bob Luderma, and Raile Burnette stood by while Dick Hansen underwent the ordeal. One cannot describe how amusing this trick was to the audience, but it might be said that Dick Hansen got pretty red in the face during the whole affair.

Ben Bergen's continual line of patter added much to the performance.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Allied Heavy Bombers Roam Over Italy To Halt Flow of Nazi Reinforcements; Major Shift in Army Command Heralds New Blows Against European Fortress

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.) Released by Western Newspaper Union.

ITALY:

Rome Is Goal

Salerno's beaches won, American and British troops turned to the northward, with Rome their immediate goal.

Having failed to throw the Allies back into the sea at Salerno, Gen. Albert Kesselring's German forces withdrew toward the Naples area, where they were expected to put up another stiff rearguard action in the mountainous terrain.

After sharp, brief attacks on Allied shipping at Salerno, German aircraft disappeared from the skies, and American and British bombers roamed over Italy at will. Seeking to halt the flow of German reinforcements to the south, Allied planes ripped railroads and highways.

Reports from Naples told of the Nazis' destruction of the city, indi-

ALLIED CHIEF: Marshall Named

Congress was working itself into a pother over rumors of Gen. George C. Marshall's removal as American chief of staff when it was reported that he has been named commander-in-chief of all American-British forces throughout the world.

According to the rumors that three Washington into ferment, Marshall had clashed with British military authorities over the opening of a second front in Europe.

Report of his appointment as commander-in-chief of all Allied forces with control over the British army, however, seemed to spike the rumors. As American chief of staff, General Marshall was in charge of all army planning, of operations and supply, and his new post undoubtedly was to carry the same responsibilities.

Against Island Hopping

Even as air-borne Australian troops landed in northeastern New Guinea in another daring move to cut off the Japanese from supply bases, Gen. Douglas MacArthur re-emphasized the pattern of his strategic battle-plans in the Southwest Pacific.

Assailing the principle of "island hopping"—that is, taking one island after the other—General MacArthur declared: "Key points must, of course, be taken, but a wise choice of such will obviate the need for storming the mass of islands now in enemy possession . . . (which) is not my idea of how to end the war as soon and as cheaply as possible."

Replying to talk he would be shelved, Gen. MacArthur said: "I have no personal military ambitions whatsoever, and am perfectly content in such role as may be prescribed for me."

MANPOWER: War Needs

Testifying before the senate military affairs committee on the question of drafting dads, Gen. George C. Marshall and Adm. Ernest J. King declared they were interested only on meeting the services' quota for 1,200,000 men by the end of the year.

According to the war manpower commission, 446,000 fathers will have to be inducted if the services' demands are to be met. Marshall and King left the problem of raising the men up to the WMC, but warned against lowering physical standards in reclassifying 4-F's, or of taking childless married men over 35.

In leading the fight against immediate induction of fathers, Senator Burton K. Wheeler sought to establish that production was exceeding requirements in certain lines, resulting in a waste of manpower which could be used to better advantage in other industries behind schedule. Wheeler also sought to probe claims that certain employers were over-staffing their concerns and raising costs to assure larger profits on contracts.

Distribute Production

While congress stewed over the whole manpower question, Chairman Donald Nelson of the war production board issued a directive ordering all war agencies not to place contracts in areas where labor shortages exist if they can be filled elsewhere.

In this connection, the WPB also declared that war contracts should be negotiated, with smaller firms being paid premiums to meet higher production costs, so that full use may be made of all manufacturing facilities.

In connection with curtailing employment in industries whose production exceeds needs, WPB announced that hereafter such employment would be cut in communities where there was a scarcity of labor in other essential lines.

Gen. George C. Marshall

POST-WAR PEACE: Vote to Cooperate

The question of nationalism and internationalism came to the front in the house of representatives and both sides came off with honors even.

With congress' adoption of the Fulbright resolution, the Internationalists won a point through the measure's provision calling for America's co-operation in joining with other nations in preserving world peace by any seemingly proper means.

On the other hand, the nationalists won a point, too, through the resolution's stipulation that congress must approve any plan for such American co-operation.

The bill went to the senate, where it faced strong opposition on the grounds that the house was trying to cut in on the senate's constitutional privilege of advising and consenting to foreign treaties.

WHEAT:

CCC Rations Stocks

Tightening of transportation is complicating the Commodity Credit Corporation's distribution of its wheat stocks for food. The same difficulty has interfered with the CCC's program for purchasing 15 million bushels of Canadian wheat weekly.

Because of the difficulties encountered, CCC has rationed wheat to buyers, with big operators formerly ordering 165,000 bushels being cut to 30,000.

As of September 11, the CCC reported, 57,453,457 bushels of new wheat were held in loan, compared with 144,038,388 at the same time last year. Some 1942 wheat also is being held in loan. CCC efforts to call these loans to replenish its stocks, however, probably would result in farmers offering the grain on the open market for sale above the loan price.

New Synthetic Tube

Add to scientific wonders this synthetic inner tube, called marvinol, and made from a new elastoplastic. According to the manufacturers, the material in the tube is non-porous, eliminating the usual leakage of two pounds of air weekly in ordinary tubes. In addition, the new tube is fully reclaimable in case of a puncture or blowout.

U. S. NAVY:

Greatest in History

With 613 warships and 18,269 planes, the U. S. navy ranks as the greatest in world history. Since 1940, 333 combatant vessels and 15,567 planes of all types have been added in a multibillion dollar construction program.

In addition to the warships, Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox disclosed that 1,274 mine and patrol craft have been built, along with 12,964 landing vessels and numerous other smaller boats.

Since the outbreak of war, the U. S. has lost 1 battleship, 4 aircraft carriers, 9 cruisers, 32 destroyers and 12 submarines, or a total of 58 warships.

FARM:

Manpower Wastage

Approximately 1,300,000 farm families are prevented from producing at their maximum because of a lack of financing, James G. Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, declared.

Because they cannot get the credit for purchase of equipment and other facilities, Patton said, these families are producing below their level and thus wasting badly needed manpower. To help them increase production, Patton suggested creation of a billion dollar loan program.

Another source of manpower wastage, Patton said, was the freezing of farm labor in most of the nation's 3,000 counties. Under provisions of public law 45, Patton pointed out, federal funds for recruiting and transporting farm labor from one area to another are advanced only on approval of the county agent.

POST-WAR:

Spending Seen

Sixty-four per cent of the people interviewed by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce plan to buy one or more major articles in the six months following the end of the war.

During this period, they intend to spend three billion dollars on automobiles; over one billion dollars on household appliances, chiefly radios and kitchen mixers; over 700 million dollars on household furnishings, and seven billion dollars on new homes.
